PERFECT LINES IN GOODS

Main-Street Stores Where All Things
Go to Make the Complete Man Can Be Secured—Some of the Details.

The stores where men "get fixed for spring" are radiant now with every variety of suits and furnishings that make a man a knight in the eyes of his true love. Easter is the time, perhaps, of all the year when the clothiers strive with all their might to vie with each other in presenting the most attractive wear for their customers and those whom they hope to make their customers. Exquisite tastes have been employed in the display of all that make a gentleman's wardrobe complete. There is no end of variety of handsome and pretty furnishings to choose from this spring, the great factories of the North having been ransacked for the buyers' benefit.

O. H. Berry & Co.
The store of Messrs. O. H. Berry and Company presents a most complete and attractive appearance. The appointments of this store are equal to those of any larger store in the city, and when one enters the great establishment he at once becomes aware of the metropolitan air which pervades the place.

The store is particularly beautiful just now with its blossoming spring. Every possible garment for men and boys for street use, for the parlor, morning or evening, for the theater, for the golf links, for every time of day and for every man of to-day or to-morrow. One feels like saying as he leaves the place, surely it is "Berry's for Clothes!"

On the left as one enters are displayed in every variety of gentlemen's suits and the latest in the line of hats, bought and arranged with admirable taste. The cravat show is particularly handsome and catchy. The splendid breadth of space in the middle of the store is given over to gentlemen's suits. Here are found for wear for the office and for the home, endless variety of nice wear, including the popular Princeton coat, as well as for the office, to be found, and nearly all the handsome fancies that are becoming so popular, a circumstance for which doubtless the attractive stock of this store is responsible.

The complete stock of shoes, including the Hanan and other standard makes, and the celebrated "Berry's $2.50 special," of the every facility for being fashionably shod at popular prices. The summer underclothing are displayed in sumptuous varieties, including Dr. Deime's system of linen and the well-known "Jockey" brand. Many other standard makes are also to be found.

The little man can find every thing he can possibly need on the second floor of the great store. Every modern convenience has been provided to give the mother comfort while shopping for her boys. The clothes are displayed on tables right before her while she is resting in a comfortable seat. On this floor also are the odds and ends of gentlemen's furnishings, such as cravats, rain-coats, bathrobes, dressing gowns, smoking jackets, house coats, all kinds of sporting goods, riding suits, golf suits, hunting suits and while the wants of the idler are diligently provided for, the work of the busy man is not forgotten. There are overalls, butchers' frocks and aprons, shirts and so on.

In the basement man finds all he wants here below, if he is going away. Everything in the shape of a trunk or valise is here that makes traveling a comfort and protects the clothes and keeps the well-dressed man well dressed, with no creases and breaks, as if he had been in railroad wreck.

The newest thing of the season is the Mexican sombrero or wide soft, four-cornered hat. These are very attractive and profitable to be favored.

Great store is brimful of things that make a man a gentleman, a joy at his best, and the Easter season a joy.

Jacobs & Levy.
One of the most complete and attractive stores for men to be found in the city or any other Southern city has its home in the handsome new building at No. 70 East Broad Street, conducted by Messrs. Jacobs and Levy.

The business, established many years ago, by these gentlemen, has had a fine record, for its growth has been such as to overflow a building of ordinary size and make the erection of a large, modern store imperative. The history of success has been continually repeated.

The buyer for Messrs. Jacobs and Levy is evidently a gentleman of taste. His display of neckties and other dainty furnishings for men at present is positive of the very handsomest style. It is shown in a most attractive and alluring manner and one cannot help thinking how nice they would look in wearing, and long for them as he gazes upon the bewildering variety.

This store has won the reputation of furnishing its customers only the clothes that are proper and in the best style. Simultaneous with the appearance of the best and newest styles in the great stores of New York this store shows them in its handsome and spacious windows. A man wants a good, nobby suit for office, if he is a mechanic and wants a strong, durable, yet neat looking suit for the shop, that he will not be ashamed of when he discards his apron, if he be a fashionably dressed man and wishes to remain so, for every hour of every day in the week, his wants can be supplied.

Everything new in underclothing is to be found and the prices are within the reach of all.

The store is now ready for its large Easter trade and an endless variety has been selected with excellent taste.

K. Fisher & Son.
Returning to Main Street one finds at "Fisher's corner," otherwise known as Fourteenth and Main, another attractive gentleman's clothing store, blooming as a flower with Easter and spring goods.

For thirty-five years Mr. K. Fisher has conducted successfully a clothing store on Main Street. For six years he has occupied the spacious store at the southeast corner of Fourteenth and Main. He has associated with him now his son, Mr. J. K. Fisher, who is following in the footsteps of his father as a wise and progressive clothier. His house is one price through and through and offers a large and excellent city trade.

manner of gent's furnishings are to be found. Messrs. Fisher have provided themselves with experienced salesmen who know when a gentleman is well dressed and who are accordingly as young as the best of them and has a great following of friends who have been dealing with him personally many years, and always ask for him.

The store's stock this spring is first-class in every respect, new, stylish and attractively displayed in excellent light. A gentleman who wants to be well dressed, who wants to feel that he is like other men who wear good clothes that suit them and fit them, can get every thing he can possibly need without leaving Fisher's corner.

A Richmonder Honored.
The Birmingham Ledger of a recent date contains an account of quite a spirited election of the officers of the "Birmingham Light Artillery," of the Alabama National Guard, in which Mr. J. W. Snodgrass, who is now second lieutenant, having received more than double as many votes as the other two candidates (who were charter members, while he had been a member for a few months only). Lieutenant Snodgrass was quite an enthusiastic member of the Richmond Blues, serving with them in the Spanish-American war. He left Richmond for Birmingham several years ago to accept a responsible position in railroad work, and is rapidly making a name for himself in the business circles of that enterprising city.

The notices from Alabama indicate a great deal of activity in military circles in that State just at present, on account of that being the first State on the list to be equipped by the national government with the provisions of the new military measure passed by the last Congress, and known as the "Dick law."

EDUCATORS ON THE WAY

They Will Soon Assemble
Here for Great Conference.

PREPARING FOR GUESTS

Richmond Education Association Busily
Engaged in Securing Homes—Programme Soon to Be Announced.

Order of Exercises.

The Richmond Education Association, through its efficient president, Mrs. Ben B. Valentine, is making gradual and progressive progress in the preparations for the great "Conference for Education in the South," to be held in Richmond, beginning Wednesday, April 8th.

The programme of the great meeting has not yet been sent to Mrs. Valentine. This is being prepared at present by Rev. Edgar Gardner Murphy, the executive secretary, associated with the president of the conference. It will be sent to

DR. CHARLES D. M'IVER.

Richmond as soon as completed. The session, day and night, will be interesting, for there will be many short addresses on various subjects of importance to those who have the broader and more general education of the whole people at heart. The people generally who attend to whom a cordial invitation will be extended to be present, will have an opportunity of hearing some of the best known men in the nation speak on live questions. These are to be persons, too, who are not well known because they are politicians and office-holders, but private citizens, who have made a success in life and who are willing to give of their time and means for the happiness of others.

ROOMS FOR MANY HUNDREDS.
The task set the Richmond Education Association has not been a light one. Homes for hundreds of people had to be provided. The Richmond people will be once, and very few, if any, will go to the hotels. Mrs. Valentine has succeeded admirably, and the response of the people has been prompt and generous. If there are others who can take one or more such, except for deposit of $2.00, a fee of 10 cents, extension will be granted to June 15th. No stop over allowed in either direction.

While the preparations have been going on at this end, Secretary Murphy and President Robert O. Ogden, of New York, have been busily engaged in arranging the programme.

The first meeting of the conference will be held on the afternoon of Wednesday, April 22d, when the officers for the next year will be chosen. Mr. Ogden is now president. He has been the executive officer ever since the organization of the conference. He will certainly be re-elected, if he can be prevailed upon to accept again. His heart is in the work, and it is hoped that he will. The entire session will be given up to organization and getting acquainted.

A GREAT OPENING SESSION.
That night will be held one of the greatest sessions of the entire series. This will be the formal opening, and among the speakers will be the Governor, who will welcome the visitors to the Commonwealth. Thursday three sessions a day will be held—morning, afternoon, and night. Each of the features will be addressed by prominent visitors on the problems of popular education. The mission of the conference is to arouse an active sentiment on popular education.

Saturday the visitors, accompanied by many of their Richmond hosts, will go to Charlottesville on a special train. Arrived there by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company. The closing session of the conference will be held at the University of Virginia. Many will take the north-bound train for their homes. But many others will stay to see the great statue along James River. These will return to Richmond and be the guests Monday of the Old Dominion Steamship Company on a trip down the river. This will be the first of the conference. Some of the delegates will go to William and Mary College, but no general pilgrimages will be made to Williamsburg, according to the present plans.

Snapshots Taken in Hotel Lobbies

Lieutenant Knowles Croeskey, formerly of Richmond, but now of Philadelphia, was at Murphy's last night, having been in the city for several days, where he came to spend his fiftieth birthday at his old home.

Mr. Croeskey, who is now a lieutenant in the Pennsylvania National Guards, was dressed in full uniform, and presented quite a soldierly appearance.

He was one of the original members of Company C, First Virginia Regiment, when that famous organization was launched, and while he has obtained a complete list of the autographs of all the original members.

Mr. Croeskey was being escorted around last night by Mr. Harry L. Watson, a former captain of the company.

Registered at Murphy's is Mr. William Croeskey, official telegrapher of the United States Senate. Mr. Jeffers, who is a most pleasant gentleman, is spending a few days in Richmond, and says he is enjoying his visit very much.

Senator John W. Daniel, who has been at Murphy's for several days, will leave for Washington to-day, and will return to his home in Lynchburg after looking after some public matters at the national capital. Senator Daniel was in fine spirits last night, and was called upon by a large number of friends.

Colonel B. M. Nowhouse, the popular Delegate from Culpeper, is being urged by his friends to stand for re-election, but the Colonel says he is not wedded to the life of a representative, and he has not fully made up his mind to ask to be returned.

Members are hoping that the people of Culpeper will return the Colonel by a unanimous vote, as he is one of the best workers in the body and is likely to take a very decided position on all questions. He is chairman of the important Committee on Asylums and Prisons, and is also on the Penitentiary Building Committee, in which he is deeply interested, and is one of its most useful and valuable members.

Judge W. B. Homes, of the County Court of Mecklenburg, was among his friends at Murphy's last night.

Virginians here last night were: Murphy's—W. G. Mathews, Glasgow; J. H. Whitman, Roanoke; New Ford's—John Wilson and wife, Lexington—F. B. Austin, city.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN PROBATE LAWS

An important measure passed the House yesterday providing for the probate of wills, the appointment of appraisers of the estates of decedents, and the appointment and qualification of personal representatives, guardians, curators and committees by the clerks of Circuit Courts. The bill was introduced by Mr. Smith, of the bill, and is patterned after the statute now in operation in West Virginia.

Should the measure eventually become a law the clerk will have the same jurisdiction in testamentary matters as the court in session over all matters relating to the settlement of estates of decedents. It affects only the Circuit Courts of counties, and has no application to cities. The convenience that will result from the law is self-evident, and the adoption of the system proposed under it for the counties is authorized by the provisions of the new Constitution. An appeal is allowed to the Circuit Court as a matter of right.

WANTS TO BREAK THEM UP

Mr. Powers Offers a Bill Aimed at Professional Jurors.

Hon. David B. Powers, Jr., of Caroline, introduced a bill in the House yesterday making it incompetent for any person to serve as a juror more than once during any year unless all the names in the jury-box have been drawn. The bill also provides that no person shall be eligible to serve on any special jury ordered by any court who during the same year has served as a juror on any special or regular jury.

The object of the bill is to do away with the professional juror, so common in the country, and to so regulate the selection of jurors hereafter that all will have equal opportunity for service and justice.

FISHERMEN DROWNED

Boat Capsized and Three Young White Men Lost Their Lives.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WARSAW, VA., April 4.—Jett Brann, Warren Brann and Thomas Wilson, three young white men in the employ of Orem & Sandy, of Mundy Point, Northumberland county, were drowned at 8 o'clock this morning, while engaged in fishing traps in Bay, on the Potomac River. The boat in which they were fishing capsized, and Messrs. Orem and Sandy, who were with them all, succeeded in crawling on the capsized boat. Orem and Sandy went ashore in a small skiff in order to secure a life boat. When they returned the boat and young men had disappeared.

Senator Ople Coming.

Senator John N. Ople, of Staunton, who has been ill so long, has about recovered his health, and will resume his senatorial duties to-morrow. He is expected to return to the city to-day.

BIG EVENTS FOR THE LAW-MAKERS MEMBERS OF SOUTHERN VEHICLE ASSOCIATION

The Tall-End of the Session Is Crowded With Important Work.

The work of the Legislature is growing heavier every day, and the coming week will be crowded with important matters in both branches.

Of first importance on both sides is the general revenue bill, which will be reported from the joint conference and disposed of finally in the next few days. The House will take up the Harvey act, which will be a hard fight. The general insurance measure is on the calendar and will be disposed of within the next few days. The Campbell case comes on in the House on Thursday, and by the time that is out of the way the tonnage tax bill will be up.

The Senate Committee on Courts of Justice and Roads will resume consideration of the corporation bills on Wednesday afternoon, and Tuesday morning the Senate Finance Committee will hear argument on the Bland Freeman's relief bill.

The Barksdale and Whitehead-Gardner primary election bills will likely be brought up in the two elections committees during the week, and there are a large number of other important matters up for consideration in the committees, as well as in the two houses proper. Indications now point strongly to a completion of the work in time to carry out the recess resolution on May 15th.

CHARGE DISCRIMINATION

City Gas Company of Norfolk Complainants of Baltimore and Ohio.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—The City Gas Company, of Norfolk, Va., has filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, alleging excessive and unreasonable rates, and that the defendant is receiving more for transporting coal for the City Gas Company than it demands of others for like service. The petition says the increase of ten cents per ton on coal, April 1, 1903, and the higher rates for transporting coal to Baltimore, when destined to be shipped by vessel to Norfolk and other points inside the Chesapeake, than when destined to be shipped by vessel to points outside the Chesapeake, and by granting allowances out of these rates for barging and discharging to all other points inside the Chesapeake, subjects the complainants to unreasonable and unjust rates of transportation in favor of other localities.

ROBINSON SENT ON

Case Will Be Heard at October Term of United States Court.

The negro mail carrier, John H. Robinson, who was arrested at Dogwell by Inspector Bulla, was given a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Flegenheller yesterday morning and sent on to the grand jury.

The man did not deny that he had opened letters, but gave the excuse that the writers were saying things in the letters about him, and he wanted to see what it was.

His case will go before the grand jury sitting in Norfolk in October. He was bailed for his appearance at that time.

FEW MINUTES SUFFICED TEDDY

President's Son Went on Deck,
But 15 Minutes of Sou'-wester Was Enough.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., April 4.—The converted yacht Mayflower, having aboard Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the President of the United States, her children and several friends, weighed anchor this morning in Lynnhaven Inlet for Washington. It had been intended to go to Port Royal, S. C., but the trip was abandoned. Kasmitt must return to school at Groton, Mass., so it was decided to at once leave for the National Capital.

All of the mail of Mrs. Roosevelt had been forwarded to the Southern port, but this will be returned to Washington. Last night the Roosevelt boys enjoyed their first experience in a storm. A howling northwester swooped over the inlet, and the Mayflower, which she is rocked considerably, but the anchor chains held fast.

Teddy, Jr., insisted so persistently that he was allowed to go on deck, attired in a sou'-wester, but he returned to the cabin after fifteen minutes' experience.

Mrs. Roosevelt expressed herself as highly pleased at the treatment received at the hands of the officials of the Chesapeake Transit Company, who tendered special cars for the children on their excursion to Lake Smith.

The Mayflower, unless the storm increases, will go direct to Washington. Teddy, Jr., and Kasmitt will leave Monday for Groton, and the children will remain at the White House while the President is on his Western trip.
